

Switching to a medicine from

ZENTIVA

LICHTENSTEIN | WINTHROP

Why have you received a medicine from ZENTIVA?

- › When the patent protection for a medicine runs out, copies of a medication with the same active substance (known as generic drugs) can be brought onto the market. These are mostly cheaper than the original, so they help to reduce the burden on the healthcare system.
- › Pharmacies are obliged to provide medicines for which your health insurance provider has concluded what is known as a discount agreement with a pharmaceutical company.
- › As a leading generic drug company in Germany, ZENTIVA offers a wide range of discounted medicines.

Switching to a medicine from ZENTIVA

What changes for you?

Switching will not disadvantage you in any way:

- › The ZENTIVA medicine is available in the same strength and pack size as your previous medication.
- › You take the medication as usual; nothing about your treatment will change.
- › The quality and efficacy will not change. Tolerance of the medicine is also comparable.
